Clean Air Day for Blue Skies and Healthy Lives

Join us this Friday, October 9th at 10 AM for our first annual Clean Air Day! Come learn how you can combat air pollution by planting your own garden, and speak with SF Commissioner on the Environment Eddie Ahn.

We can all do our part to create cleaner air and healthier communities by volunteering at the farm, gardening at home, choosing to bike or take public transit, and purchasing locally-grown produce to reduce fossil fuel emissions from transportation. We're grateful for our partnerships with Brightline Defense and California Coalition for Clean Air that make this event possible.

Over 300 organizations have taken the Clean Air Pledge.
Take yours today at <https://www.cleanairday.org/pledge/>.

Don't miss our Instagram Giveaways!

Want a chance to win some $25 gift cards? This Monday, we launched giveaway #2 of 4 to celebrate our recent rebranding! Details and instructions can be found here on our Instagram page.

Follow us @ffcommunityfarm so you don't miss out!

COVID-19 Food Service

Did you know FFCF has been running an COVID-19 Emergency Food Service Program? With the help of the Iron Man Iron Aid COVID-19 Support Fund, we've been able to: 1. harvest the plots of community farmers who are unable to work during this time; 2. increase crop production for families that need fresh produce; and 3. coordinate a volunteer distribution program to deliver crops and food staples to seniors and families with youth! Special thanks to SF Foundation and United Way Bay Area as well for supporting this program.

Give the Gift of Growing!

Your donations are what make our produce and programs blossom. Help us continue building our vibrant community hub. We welcome any and all contributions to the farm.
